Norfolk Local

King's Daughters' Nurse Returns.
The secretary of the Norfolk City Union takes great pleasure in announcing the return of Miss Nason, the King's Daughters' nurse, to her duties and clergymen and physicians, and others working among the poor are requested to apply for her when needing her services to 422 Butt street-old phone No. 222.

During Miss Nason's protracted absence, on account of her injured arm, the work has been done by a nurse assisting her place, and in the month ending August 7th has made one hundred calls. Nourishment has been sent, chicken, tea, eggs, milk and ice, also medicine supplied. Cases have largely been typhoid and material to us. One death from typhoid fever and one from cancer.

Dr. JAMES C. LYNCH.
(From the Washington Post)

The appointment of Dr. James C. Lynch, of Norfolk, Va., to the position of quarantine officer in Norfolk and surrounding country, gives particular satisfaction to his friends in Washington.

Dr. Lynch is a grandson of the late Commodore William F. Lynch, who explored the tidal sea, and who afterward wrote a book on the subject, which was very widely read. During the yellow fever epidemic in Chattanooga, Tenn., some years ago, Dr. Lynch was appointed to a similar position by Gov. Tyler, and he then made a record as a yellow fever expert, which was recognized all over the South. Dr. Lynch some years ago married Miss Lucy Kemper, daughter of the late Gen. Kemper, ex-Governor of Virginia.

have disgraced the plan now, and will rebuke the shameless plotters by giving the country to the Democracy for government.

WHY HE CHANGED HIS MIND.

Mr. Croker explained why he had changed his views so soon. "I was wrong," said he, "in my statement I made before I went away. I hold my belief that we should not give up our foot of soil our soldiers have won up information that was not complete. Publicly I made the statement that I did not believe we should give up the Philippines. I am not ashamed now to say to the public that I was wrong. I want to set myself right."

"I am not playing a political game through this interview. No one man was responsible for my change of mind. While I was in Europe I talked with some of the best-informed men there or anywhere else on the subject of colonial conquest. I made investigations for myself. I reached the conclusion that we have no right at all to keep the Philippines."

"We were wrong in the first place to pay $20,000,000 for them. In the second place I believe that the war that is now costing thousands of lives and millions of dollars was not started by the Filipinos, but by the Americans, under somebody's orders."

"I became absolutely convinced that the war as it was started was part of a political plot to put back into power the discredited McKinley Administration. What I have said about the President being responsible for the loss of thousands of lives and thousands of homes for the sake of his political future sounds harsh, even brutal, but the statement is not a bit more harsh brutal or inhuman than are the facts."

ON A TIDE OF FILIPINO BLOOD.

"McKinley is seeking to float back into power on a tide of Filipino blood."

"What should we do with the Filipinos? I don't know. They are not for us or any other white people. The only people who live there for any length of time are those who are now fighting our troops there. We can get the islands by annihilating the natives, by driving them from the country's mouth just as England has done—but in no other way, and when we get them they will be of no use to us. Our people cannot exist there. If we want a coaling station in the Philippines, all right. We can get that without any trouble at all."

"I want to be clearly understood in this matter. I am not against legitimate expansion. When we can acquire territory honorably, when the advantage of acquisition is divided decently between ourselves and those we take in, or when we confer a benefit without having first done an injury, then I am an expansionist."

THE VAN WYCK BOOM.

To the question, "Do you think Bryan is an available candidate for the Presidency?" Mr. Croker would only reply, "I have nothing more to say. He declined to discuss the attitude of those Southern Democrats at Saratoga, who are back of the Van Wyck movement."

Asked if he had met and talked with William C. Whitney during his visit to Europe, Mr. Croker replied that they talked on everything, thus including politics.

Mr. Croker left no doubt as to his attitude with regard to the Van Wyck boom.

"Van Wyck a candidate?" said Mr. Croker, when he was asked what he thought of the boom. "I hadn't heard that he was a candidate. He's a good man—a fine man. You see, I'm not posted on politics. I can't say what I think of it, and don't know when I can express an opinion."

CROKER LAUDS.

BRYAN AND FLOPS TO ANTI-IMPERIALISM.

(N. Y. Herald)

From an interview with Croker: "No man is so close to the people as Bryan."

Bryan is one of the greatest men America has produced."

The silver question can safely be left to Congress."

"Van Wyck a candidate? I hadn't heard that he was."

"To win we must have a platform that will declare against trusts and imperialism."

"President McKinley has turned the war in the Philippines into a scheme which he hopes will result in his own return to office. The struggle is being prolonged for no other purpose."

"This McKinley campaign of slandering

Indictments were found against Jas. Morris and E. L. White for malming. A recall paper from Morris was granted to H. G. Gale, at H. G. Gale's Ferry.
